Parental, Community or Business Involvement

The Elks sponsored a Student of the Quarter for each grade. Students were recognized for their involvement in activities in the school and community as well as for academic achievements.

The School-To-Work program was a joint effort from many community agencies and businesses. The State Department of Labor had representatives from their employment office present to our students and assist them with filling out an application and completing a resume. Representatives from Brechan's Construction, Safeway, Alaska Department of Fish & game, USPS, NOAA, Afognak Native Corp., KPD, National Marine Fisheries, Harborside and Island Espresso providing interviewing experience for our 8th grade students..

The American Legion presented awards and a check for $100 to each 8th grade student who earned all A's during their 2 years at KMS. This year 9 students received this award.

Our local Fisheries Research Department collaborated with out Science Departments to create some real world activities for our students using their resources. We look forward to more work with them in the near future.

Our PTSA meet monthly planning activities for our students. We began brainstorming for ways to promote more of a family atmosphere for all here at KMS.

Various USCG personel supported activities during the year. They were extremely valuable during our physical fitness assessment.

Interns from Anderson University assisted out teachers during the last two weeks of school. This group of future teachers came to Kodiak this year to gather experience with working with a diverse group of students.

Other Information the School Wishes to Share

The Language Arts and Special Services Departments received training on the Step Up to Writing program. The Special Services Department looks to maximize their efforts in assisting our students improve their writing skills. In addition to Writing, our SpEd department also purchased a new math intervention program. Math is an area where our students with disabilities need improvement, and we have rearranged how we meet their needs. We anticipate growth for all students in these areas.

Our staff also began researching the National Middle School Association's Keys to Educating Young Adolescents. In our effort to maximize student achievement, we will start by identifying areas of strength and weaknesses and look to research ways to improve our interactions with students.
