Kaelie Polhemus

Kaelie has stood out among her peers since joining the Spanish program two years ago, in Spanish I. She has made great leaps over that time, growing more expressive and fluent seemingly daily, often drawing correlations between plot developments in our class novels, our class show (El internado is a pretty great non-telenovela, by the way), or recent developments in our lives, and one of the movies she has fit into her busy schedule, having first polished off piles of serious-student schoolwork and a battery of ballet classes. She often lets loose an excited “es como/that’s just like …” followed by yet another well-delivered, entertaining, and heart-rendered comparison. She is our resident Connection Queen, a title reserved for only the most insightful of the insightful.
