

Shaping Alaska's Future

Academic Excellence in Leadership

Amanda Magnusen

I nominate Kodiak Senior Amanda Magnusen for her leadership qualities. She recently received a student leadership award from the US Army during the 2016 Native Youth Olympic games. The respect and honor she displays for others, including knowledge and wisdom she absorbs from her mentor, her grandmother, has put her in the spotlight as someone others look up to. Her selfless service, honor and personal courage she displays by volunteering without complaint shows that she is a mature young adult. Her loyalty and high honors got her accepted into an Ivy League school. She is one of the 10% of nationwide applicants chosen to go to Dartmouth this fall. Mandy will study to become a lawyer. As an Alaska Native student, she plans to come back to Alaska and give service to our Native people.
