Academic Excellence in Photography

John Dunlop

For Academic Excellence in Digital Media - Photography, I wholeheartedly nominate John Dunlap. This is John's first year within the digital media program, and it has been quite an amazing year. In the time that I've had the pleasure of working with John, he has proven his natural skill and tenacity to learn new things time and time again. Quickly grasping complicated photography concepts, he could be counted on to turn around and apply those skills in new and unique ways. Other students could depend on John to share his knowledge and openly share how he attacked a problem. Although "quiet determination" is a phrase I would use to describe his approach, he would never shy from defending a work of art, and looking at ways to make the next one just a little bit better. I appreciate all the hard work and energy that he brings to the class, and I look forward to seeing where he takes his talents next (hint: hopefully in more of my classes).
