Academic Excellence in Art

Roslyn Still

Roslyn Still's body of work so far this year is a visual record of her dedication to the visual arts. She is dogged in her determination to improve her skills and puts in the hours necessary to do so. While she has always shown a great deal of talent, what I have found most impressive this year is her increasing willingness to take the risks necessary to push her art further, which is the hallmark of a true artist. Furthermore, Roslyn is a valuable member of the classroom community. Her mere presence in the art room is an asset, either when lending a hand to other students who may be in need of technical help or offering kind encouragement to those who may be struggling to develop their own ideas.
