Wetherleigh Griffin

AP US History is a class with many overachievers. To be honest, competition is encouraged; it can get a bit bloodthirsty at times, particularly during Friday Jeopardy games. Rising above the fray with grace and resolute aplomb is Wetherleigh Griffin. She quietly pursues excellence every day, every week, every quiz, every DBQ. She’s incisive and reflective and fiercely analytical. Her writing is judicious and detailed, and she tackles every assignment with the same unremitting, unyielding determination. Although many students are swamped this time of year with testing, sports, and state competitions for a myriad of activities, Wetherleigh has been unwavering in her approach to APUSH. Within the classroom, she has a unique ability to lead without smugness or conceit. She’s patient as she helps a peer and respectful in disagreement. She’s simply a pleasure to have in class because she exceeds every expectation, even amongst a group of high achievers.

~ Jennifer Parnell